...Luck of the Irish, or Do They Make Their Own?

An Irishman arrived at J.F.K. In'l Airport and wandered around the terminal with tears streaming down his cheeks. An airline employee asked him if he was already homesick.
 "No," replied the Irishman. "I've lost my luggage!"
 "How'd that happen?" asked the airline employee.

The cork fell out!" was the Irishman's reply.

Roy McQuillan walked into a pub and ordered martini after martini, each time removing the olives and placing them in a jar. When the jar was filled with olives and all the drinks consumed, the Irishman started to leave. "S 'cuse me", said a customer, who was puzzled over what McQuillan had done, "What was that all about?"

 "Nothin'," said the Irishman, "Me wife jus sent me out for a jar of olives!"

Super Bowl + Mardi Gras Equals Big Challenges for New Orleans EMS

SUSAN NICOL KYLE-

NEW ORLEANS, La. -- EMS crews here are used to parties, but the one Sunday night following the Saints' Super Bowl victory will go down as one of the largest ever.

Anticipating a massive crowd, additional EMS crews were assigned to the area, said Jeb Tate, New Orleans EMS spokesman.

"Working in a party city, we are used to covering large events including Mardi Gras and the hundreds of thousands of revelers who partake in the festivities...We knew that a Super Bowl victory in conjunction with the first weekend of Mardi Gras would equal one of the biggest celebrations this city has ever seen," he said.

Tate said he and other veteran New Orleans EMS crews were both surprised and proud to have been part of it.

"I've been with EMS for nearly a decade, and I've never seen anything like it. Horns were honking; people were hanging out of cars yelling. Everyone was just so happy. Mardi Gras just doesn't compare..."

Tate said there was no civil unrest, just one huge celebration with "Who Dat?" reverberating through the city's historic downtown.

Up-staffing was a wise decision as crews were inundated with calls associated with intoxication and celebrations -- falls, sick people and minor trauma. Medics staffed ATVs and SUVs as well as ambulances. From 6 p.m. Sunday through 6 a.m. Monday, they had handled 183 calls for service. "As soon as our paramedics off-loaded at hospitals, they were immediately assigned to another call," he said, adding that the surge started about 10:30 p.m., just after the Saints clinched the championship.

"It was so crowded you couldn't cross Bourbon Street. People were just so happy, and having a great, great time."

New Orleans EMS Director Dr. Juliette Saussy also was impressed by the crews' ability.

"First and foremost...Who Dat!" she said in a prepared statement. "New Orleans EMS could not be more proud to serve the home of the New Orleans Saints. We were faced with uncharted logistical challenges last night, and as always, the citizens and visitors of New Orleans received top-notch pre-hospital emergency medical care.

"The surge in call volume following our Super Bowl victory was tremendous. Through the concerted efforts of field and administrative personnel responding to calls for help, we were able to complete our mission. I could not ask for a more dedicated and skilled group of medics than those who make up our family at New Orleans EMS."

Tate said there's no time for personnel to take much of a breather. Mardi Gras celebrations have already started, and about 800,000 to 900,000 people are expected to attend the Saints' victory parade Tuesday evening.

Shingles...High Rates for Health Care?

Bubba walked into a doctor's office and the receptionist asked him what he had. Bubba said, "Shingles." So she wrote down his name, address, medical insurance number and told him to have a seat. Fifteen minutes later, a nurse's aid came out and asked Bubba what he had. Bubba said, "Shingles." So she wrote down his height, weight, a complete medical history and told Bubba to wait in the examining room. A half hour later a nurse came in and asked Bubba what he had. Bubba said, "Shingles". So the nurse gave Bubba a blood test, a blood pressure test, an electrocardiogram, and told Bubba to take off all his clothes and wait for the doctor. An hour later the doctor came in and found Bubba sitting patiently in the nude and asked Bubba what he had. Bubba said, "Shingles." The doctor asked, "Where?" Bubba said, "Outside on the truck, Where do you want me to unload 'em?"

HOW FIGHTS GET STARTED

My wife walked into the den & asked, "What's on the TV?" I replied, "Dust". and that's how the fight started.....

A woman is standing nude, looking in the bedroom mirror... She is not happy with what she sees and says to her husband, 'I feel horrible, I look old, fat and ugly. I really need you to pay me a compliment.' The husband replies, 'Your eyesight is damn near perfect.' and that's how the fight started.....

My wife was hinting about what she wanted for our upcoming anniversary. She said, 'I want something shiny that goes from 0 to 200 in about 3 seconds. I bought her a scale. and that's how the fight started.....

I asked my wife, 'Where do you want to go for our anniversary?' It warmed my heart to see her face melt in sweet appreciation. 'Somewhere I haven't been in a long time!' she said. So I suggested, 'How about the kitchen?' and that's how the fight started.....

My wife and I are watching Who Wants To Be A Millionaire while we were in bed, I turned to her and said, 'Do you want to have sex?' 'No,' she answered. I then said, 'Is that your final answer?' She didn't even look at me this time, simply saying 'Yes.' So I said, 'Then I'd like to phone a friend.' and that's how the fight started.....

I tried to talk my wife into buying a case of Miller Light for $14.95. Instead, she bought a jar of cold cream for $7.95. I told her the beer would make her look better at night than the cold cream. and that's how the fight started.....

My wife and I were sitting at a table at my high school reunion, and I kept staring at a drunken lady swigging her drink as she sat alone at a nearby table. My wife asked, 'Do you know her?' 'Yes,' I sighed, 'She's my old girl-friend. I understand she took to drinking right after we split up those many years ago, and I hear she hasn't been sober since. 'My God!' says my wife. 'Who would think a person could go on celebrating that long?' and that's how the fight started.....

I took my wife to a restaurant. The waiter, for some reason, took my order first. 'I'll have the strip steak medium rare, please..' He said, 'Aren't you worried about the mad cow?' 'Nah, she can order for herself.' and that's how the fight started.....
